Vinification: The grapes for this Pinot Noir were grown organically on the Wrekin Vineyard which lies in Marlboroughs Brancott Valley. Positioned on northwestern facing slopes, set in deep clay soils, this charming little vineyard was carefully managed to provide a very low-yielding, high quality crop. The intensely flavoured fruit was hand harvested from late March, then de-stemmed into small open top fermenters where it was cold soaked for 10 days. The wine was then fermented with indigenous yeast

Appearance: Striking dark ruby-red with a purple hue

Bouquet: Blackberries, black cherry and plum. Smokey overtones from the French oak barriques arelayered with earthy notes and hints of baking spices

Palate: With impressive primary flavours of blackberries, boysenberries and black Doris plums, this wine shows complexity with well integrated oak and velvety tannins
