| Vineyard: | Hardys Oomoo was one of the first wines produced by Thomas Hardy at his original Bankside winery. Throughout the late 1800s and early 1900s it was Hardys most recognisable label, the word Oomoo adopted from the local Aboriginal dialect meaning good or attractive. Today, Oomoo showcases the premium regions of South Australia. Every wine is a true reflection of the variety and the region. | | |
| Appearance: | Bright alluring red with deep crimson hues. | | |
| Bouquet: | Elegant expression of McLaren vale shiraz with bright fruit ,dark berries, spice , mint, chocolate, meaty, enhanced by judicious lick of vanillia oak. | | |
| Palate: | Delicious array of sweet fruit flavours with dominant blackcurrant, chocolate, mint flavour profile- more medium bodied than full bodied, fine dusty tannin but a super expression of terrior. | | |
